ON THE COVER

An example of "Gold Certificates" this $10 note is but one of eight denominations issued The others being the $20, $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000 notes. The obligation reads; "This certifies that there have been deposited in the Treasury of the United States of America.....Dollars in gold coin payable on demand....."

The 1928 series shown here was signed by Woods-Mellon as were all other denominations, except for the 1928-A series that were signed by Woods-Mills. These notes, however were not issued as were the series of 1934 when the $100, $1,000, $10,000, and $100,000 were printed but never issued for general circulation.

These small size gold notes (the serial numbers and seal were printed in gold ink) were a short lived series, cut off by the Gold Reserve Act of 1933, which required the surrender of all Gold Certificates. The collectability of types is thus limited to the series of 1928, in the $10, $20, $50, and $100 denominations. Star notes are especially in great demand.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Michigan's springtime is the greatest! The smell of the blossoms and flowers is as sweet as finding a new note for your collection. I just added a large size national from Burr Oak to my collection of Michigan Nationals and thought it was as sweet as smelling the new budding flowers.

The Michigan State Spring Show was held in Lansing this April 10-12 and it was a great show with all the dealers going away happy, which means many collectors were able to purchase at least some of their wanted items. The auction was held by Kurt Krueger and after I stayed up until midnight for the paper money to sell was not able to buy a single note - every lot went high and most over the green sheet prices. The exhibits were all very nice and we have about as many paper money exhibits now as coins. This year Dr. Lee won the "Best of Show" exhibit for PMCM in a tight race with a number of other PMCM members. There were also some nice non-competitive exhibits at this show and one stand out was that of Max Brail's. He exhibited his Pan - Pac set of commemoratives showing the two gold $50 coins in the original copper frame along with the other pieces.

Memphis Show is June 19 - 21 and after discussing this upcoming show at our MSNS spring business meeting I can count at least 14 going to it. At this stage of the game myself, Bob Joyce, Bill Brandimore, Chet Clark, and Al Latson are all planning on driving down together - 5 in a Volkswagen bug! Sound like fun? We'll probably have to pull a trailer to haul all of our gear and especially our lunch! Our next predicament is trying to squeeze the 6th guy into our room. All this makes for a lot of merriment so we'll see how things turn out. One way or the other though you can sure figure on a good time going to the best paper money show in the world. If you've never attended drop everything you have planned for that weekend and head south to Memphis. You'll enjoy it.

We'll be having a meeting in Memphis on Saturday afternoon and will have a speaker so plan on being there. Hope to see many of you in Memphis as it's one of the great highlights of the year.

Regards
Dr Wallace Lee

THE NATIONAL BANKS OF PLANO, TEXAS

by
Frank Clark #2104

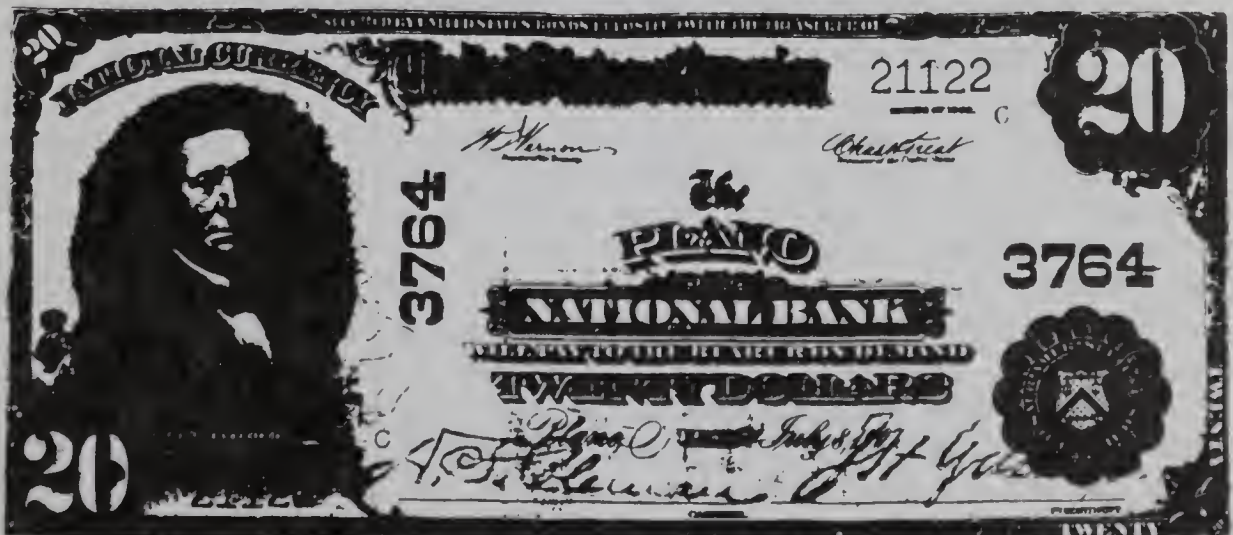

Plano is a suburb north of Dallas that is located in southern Collin County. Plano was named for the plains on which the town was built in 1851. In the last 20 years Plano has rapidly grown from a country town to a bustling suburb. At this time we will look at the early national banks of Plano that helped lay the foundation for this successful community.

THE PLANO NATIONAL BANK OF PLANO

In January of 1887, Thomas Chilton Jasper of Kentucky came to Plano looking for a building wherein to conduct a banking business. He organized The Plano National Bank, investing $40,000 of the new bank's capital of $50,000. The original organizers and stockholders who participated with Jasper were John S. Armstrong, George W. Bowman, Jackson H. Bowman, Olney Davis, George W. Jones, Henry C. Overaker and W.H. Thomas. These were some of the leading men in town and in the surrounding area. The bank was organized on July 7, 1887 and chartered on July 28, 1887 with charter number 3764.

The I.O.O.F. lodge sold the lower floor of its two story brick building to the bank on July 14, 1887. The previous tenant was H.L. Murray's Saloon. The bank remained at this location throughout its existence.

T.C. Jasper served as the bank's first cashier for 25 years until his retirement in March of 1913. George W. Bowman served as the bank's first president until his death on June 24, 1921. His brother, Jackson H. Bowman, served as the bank's first vice-president. Others who served as cashier were W.R. Norton, who succeeded Jasper; Claude M. Jasper, T.C. Jasper's son; and D.S. Coleman, who was a nephew of Mrs. T.C. Jasper. Olney Davis was a vice-president and he later was a mayor of Plano.

Third Charter, Series of 1902 Blue Seal, Plain Back and signed by D.S. Coleman, Cashier and J.H. Gullledge, President

When George W. Bowman died in 1921, Joseph H. Gullledge became president. He served until The Plano National Bank and The Farmers National Bank merged to form The First National Bank on January 1, 1931. He then went into retirement.

On February 28, 1920, the city night watchman for Plano, C.W. Rye, was making his usual rounds past the rear of The Plano National Bank building when he saw two men robbing the bank. He was shot and fatally wounded. He lived for only fifteen minutes, but he told those who found him that there was two robbers involved. The robbers had chiseled a hole through the brick wall large enough for a man to slip through. It was estimated that the value of the Liberty Bonds stolen was as low as $20,000 or as high as $150,000. However, the bank actually lost about $1,100 in bonds, and about 200 safety deposit boxes had been plundered. About 15 minutes after Rye was shot, the sound of an automobile "thundering past" was reported south of town at 5:00 A.M. This robbery reminded the citizens of the time in 1895 when the bank had its safe blown and $20,000 in cash was stolen. Unfortunately, the robbers in neither crime were ever apprehended.

The Plano National Bank issued both large and small size national bank notes. The second charter notes were $10 and $20 Brown Backs and the third charter notes were $10 and $20 Red Seals, Dated Blue Seals and Plain Back Blue Seals. In small size nationals, the bank issued $10 and $20 Type I notes.

THE FARMERS AND MERCHANTS NATIONAL BANK OF PLANO

The Farmers and Merchants National Bank of Plano was organized on December 17, 1900 and chartered on January 1, 1901 with charter number #5692 and with a capital of $50,000. The organizers of the bank were Olney Davis, who owned one-third of the stock and served as the bank's president during its existence; Henry C. Jones, cashier; other stockholders who served on the board of directors were John L. Brown, J.H. Carpenter, R.H. Crawford, C.S. Haggard, James N. Mendenhall, Homer L. Murray and C.F. Saigling.

On February 2, 1905 downtown Plano caught on fire and the bank building was damaged. Plano was known for its downtown fires as it had several large ones since the late 1800's and insurance rates were very high in this town because of them.

The bank was placed in voluntary liquidation on December 16, 1920, and a portion of its assets were transferred to The Farmers State Bank of Plano, which was chartered on December 9, 1920.

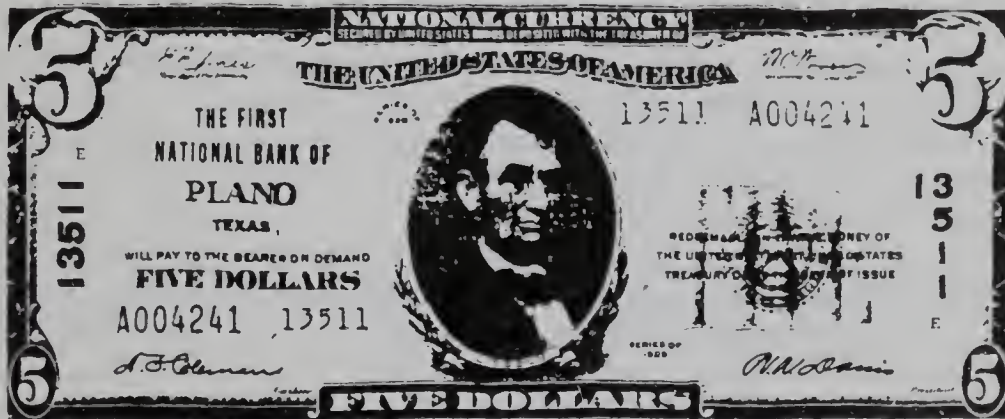

Olney Davis served as president of the First State Bank until his death in 1922. Arch Weatherford served as vice-president, and Robert A. Davis, Olney's son, served as cashier, becoming president upon the death of his father. The board of directors included these officers and also J.H. Carpenter, W.H. Chaddick, Guy M. Rice and William Forman.

The Farmers State Bank was converted back to a national bank and it was reorganized on January 2, 1925, and chartered on January 6, 1925, as The Farmers National Bank in Plano with charter number 12622. The organizers of the new bank were the men who served as directors of the state bank, and they served as directors of the new national bank as well. R.A.Davis and the Olney Davis estate held over half of the shares of the new bank with R.A.Davis serving as president. The bank went into voluntary liquidation by a resolution of its stockholders on January 23, 1931, and was succeeded by The First National Bank of Plano.

The Farmers and Merchants National Bank issued the following large size second charter national bank notes - $10 and $20 Brown Backs, Date Backs, and Value Backs. The total amount of circulation issued was $492,450 and the amount outstanding when the bank closed in 1920 was $49,995. When the bank later became a national bank again as The Farmers National Bank it elected not to issue national bank notes.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PLANO

On December 5, 1930, The First National Bank of Plano was organized and on December 17, 1930, it was chartered with a capital of $50,000 as a successor to The Plano National Bank and The Farmers National Bank in Plano. This merger took place on January 1, 1931. The bank recieved charter number 13511.

Series of 1929 Type II and signed by D.S. Coleman, Cashier and R.A. Davis, President

The organizers of the bank and the principal stockholders included D.S. Coleman, Robert A. Davis, Fred Harrington, Charles M. Rice, W.J. Robbins, and Arch Weatherford. These men served as the board of directors. The bank's officers were Robert A. Davis; president; Arch Weatherford, vice-president; and D.S. Coleman, cashier. In its first month of existance the bank purchased the Liberty State Bank of Murphy.

The First National Bank took up shop in the building where The Plano National Bank had been located. In the 1950's the bank moved to a new location and the A.R. Schell Insurance Agency bought the building and has been there ever since. About 10 years ago the outside of the building was restored to look like it did in the 1930's. The First National Bank has become part of the RepublicBank chain.

The First National Bank of Plano issued Type I and Type II $5 small size national bank notes. The total amount of circulation issued was $200,310. When the national bank note program terminated in July, 1935, there was $32,000 outstanding.

FUNNY MONEY PRINTED

Printing of about $2 million in Disney Dollars for Disneyland was a serious job for a Battle Creek printing company.

The currency, graced with images of Goofy, Mickey Mouse, Sleeping Beauty's Castle and the Mark Twain Steamboat, is to debut at the Anaheim, Calif., theme park May 5.

Mike Fatt, vice-president and general manager of Embossed Printers Inc., said the Magic Kingdom bills, which will be exchanged evenly with U.S. currency, are the first four-color currency used in the United States.

The engraved edges, serial numbers and other details were added by United States Banknote Co., a Chicago company that engraves foreign currency.

GROVER CRISWELL'S NEW CATALOG
BY CHESTER F. CLARK #974

Just received this spring from the deep south is a huge sales catalog from PMCM member Grover C. Criswell which he titles "My 1987 Compendium". This 360-page paperback book is filled with desirable collectables, being heavy in paper money especially banknotes of the Confederacy. Also available are U.S. Colonial notes, Obsoletes, and Foreign. Other items include Old Stocks and Bonds, Autographs, Postal History, Army-Navy-Marine Items, Slavery Material, Custom Items, Reference Books, and CSA Coins-Medals-Seals-Papers.

My dictionary says that a compendium is a "summary of a larger work or field of knowledge". This book is well titled. This man Criswell is an amazing character. Being now only 45 years old, he has been a dealer of paper money for more than three decades, having started at 12 years of age. At one time he was considered the richest man in Confederate notes in the U.S. - and he says they are worth something. The most common CSA note brings $2 among collectors. Grover had two uncles who served in the Confederate Army, and his Dad in Tennessee gave him a few pieces of CSA currency at age 11. At about age 15 Grover published his first book. Two others followed. His "North American Currency" and the first two books from standard texts. In 1973 Grover founded the Bank Note Reporter.

From his own story Grover tells of being a somewhat controversial figure in numismatics, having served on the Board of Governors of ANA and of becoming President. Grover made two appearances on national network TV - on What's My Line and To Tell The Truth - To talk about Confederate notes.

Collectors may acquire copies of "My 1987 Compendium" by sending $4.95 per copy to Col. Grover C. Criswell, Route #3, Box 1085, Ft. McCoy FL 32637. The book includes a refund slip worth $5.00 on an order.

MSNS SPRING CONVENTION

This years MSNS Spring Convention was held in Lansing, the state capitol, to coincide with the celebration of the Michigan Sesquicentennial. The three day show had exhibits of Paper Money, Silver and Gold Coins, Jewelry, Gems, Tokens, and Memorabilia.

Before the General Meeting, Chester Clark, John Nammensma, and myself joined together to judge this years Paper Money Exhibits from club members;

MING DYNASTY - Charles Fenwick

OBSOLETE OF MICHIGAN, 1801-1861 - Dr. Wallace Lee

MY HOME TOWN BANK NOTES; National Bank of Howell - Al Latson

THE NOTE THAT NEVER WAS; FRACTIONAL - Bill Brandimore

This years "Best of Show" 1987 Spring Convention was our own President Dr. Wallace Lee. A truly interesting exhibit including engraved plates with type of currency.

At the General Meeting of the PMCM, attended by 15 members, B. Joseph Mikolajczyk was presented with his award for "Best of Show" Spring 1986, delayed because of an engraving error.

Martin Delger of Kalamazoo MI, past President of the PMCM, was asked to give a preview of the coming Memphis International Show in June. One hundred forty to one hundred fifty cases were reported to have been in last years show.

Material planned for the show include Large and Small sized U.S. Paper Money, National Bank Notes, U.S. Fractional Notes, Obsolete Bank Notes, Foreign Notes, Bank Checks, and Souvenir Cards. Sounds like something for everyone.

I also learned of Max E. Brail named Mr. Numismatist by the MSNS and receiving an award for fifty years of collecting.

THE ST. LOUIS TWENTY DOLLAR FEDERAL RESERVE BANK NOTE
by W.C. Anspach, PMCM #1489
reprinted from Rag Picker
July-August 1976 Vol.XI #4

There were only five Federal Reserve Banks, Which issued the twenty dollar denomination. These were Atlanta, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Dallas. Of the five issuing banks the St. Louis note is the most rare. Twenty four thousand notes were issued and only ninety-three are outstanding. My good friend Mike Crabb, who has been trying to track down these notes for the past two years, has located only twelve.

The Federal Reserve Bank Note of all denominations is in my opinion one of the most interesting pieces of currency. In the large size issue it was ommitted in two different series, one in 1915 and the other in 1918.

The 1915 series was authorized by the Federal Reserve Act of December 23,1913. It was originally thought that with the establishment of the Federal Reserve system that many National Banks would wish to dispose of their government bonds with note issuing privileges. The Federal Reserve Banks were authorized to buy these bonds and to issue notes against them in the same manner as National Banks. The obligation to pay was against the individual Federal Reserve Bank and was very similar to the obligation found on the National Bank Notes.

The series of 1918 notes were issued for an entirely different purpose. This series was authorized by the Pittman Act of April 23, 1918. The Pittman Act provided for the sale of $350,000,000 worth of silver dollars on the world market. As a consequence, a like amount of silver certificates had to be retired from circulation. To fill the gap the Federal Reserve Banks were authorized to issue $350 million worth of Federal Reserve Bank Notes. In order to avoid an extra burden on their reserves, the Federal Reserve Banks could issue these new notes by depositing either United States certificates of indebtedness or one year gold notes with the Treasurer of the United States. This obligation is so stated on the notes.

The Pittman Act further provided for the repurchase of domestic silver at $1.00 per ounce to be coined into 350 million silver dollars. The Federal Reserve Bank notes were to be retired as the new silver was bought and minted. A totla of $261,039,000 worth of FRBN's in all denominations was issued under this act and by the end of 1922 only $2,770,000 were outstanding.

According to Mr. W.A. Philpott, the Federal Reserve Bank Notes were the worst quality notes ever produced by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. This was due to the fact all of our linen as well as most of our inks came from Europe and since WW I was in progress during the period, which these notes were printed, supplies of these were cut off. This would make truly gem quality notes extremely difficult to locate.
